

Chill Weather Will Continue

The chill, resulting from yesterday's nationwide visitation of rough weather, continues to have its effect on local temperatures and will continue to do so for several days to come, says S. E. Decker of the Escanaba weather bureau.

Yesterday's high of 25 dropped to a crisp 13 this morning. The weather has slowly moderated, but will not rise above freezing point today and will plunge to 14 or 15 degrees tomorrow morning.

This visitation has come as a result of a cold wave drifting in from the MacKenzie valley in the Yukon. The heavy snowfall that hit southern Wisconsin, Lower Michigan and eastward through New York, seems to have bypassed this area.

Temperatures will average 8 to 12 degrees below the seasonal normal. (Normal highs range from 42 in the north to 51 in the south; normal lows from 26 in the north to 32 in the south). Unseasonable cold will continue through Sunday. Precipitation will average 1/4 inch moisture in north to near one inch in south; snow about Thursday and in south portion Wednesday night and Sunday.

Local weather will be partly cloudy this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday with a few snow flurries likely tonight; continued cold; high today 28; low tonight 14; high Wednesday 25 to 30. Mostly west to northwest winds will prevail.

League Interviews:

Council Candidates Give Views On City Policies

Five candidates seeking election to Escanaba City Council last night gave answers to a series of nine questions prepared and submitted to them by the League of Women Voters, part of the League's program of voter information service.

The meeting in Junior High School study hall was open to the public and the moderator was Miss Helen Masterson.

On April 5 the voters will elect two councilmen. The terms of Guy Knutson, who is retiring, and Edward Cox, who is a candidate for reelection, will expire in April.

The five candidates are Councilman Cox, H. Chris Nicholson, Harlan Yelland, William E. Anderson and Herbert Carlson.

Because of a previous engagement, Yelland was unable to attend last night's meeting, but his answers were read at the meeting by a member of the League. The nine questions and a summary of the answers are as follows:

Q—What do you feel should be the next step toward solving Escanaba's electrical problem?

Anderson — The problem is still be studied. He would be inclined to "give a great deal of weight" to the reports of the Council's power advisory committee.

Yelland — Believes it is not advisable for the city to have a city-owned plant. Following reports by consulting engineers the Council should decide for a plant of most benefit to the people.

Carlson — There are several solutions and the people should not be fearful of a power shortage. If the city had set aside electric utility profits in the past it could have constructed a municipal generating plant.

Cox — The Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative's power contract proposal to the city should be studied; the city should hear reports on a proposed municipal power plant from electrical engineers — impartial consultants.

Nicholson — For any plan that would benefit the people with a lower rate. Possible solutions should be considered.

Q—Should the office of safety director be continued in its present form or should the fire and police departments be separated? What do you feel should be the qualifications for the head or heads of these departments?

Anderson — The present position of safety director, with administrative integration of the two departments, should be kept.

Yelland — The departments should be separated. Heads of the two departments should be "specialists" in their fields.

Carlson — Should be separated. They are now "top heavy" in administrative detail.

Cox — Should be separated. The office of safety director has led to unsatisfactory relations in the department and with the public.

Nicholson — Should be separated to provide personnel an opportunity for advancement.

Q—To what extent should the Escanaba city master plan (of zoning) be flexible in its application to: a — city-owned land; b — zoning ordinances?

Although the answers varied in wording, the candidates favored flexibility of application.

Q—What is your attitude toward the policy of not reappointing members to boards and commissions?

All of the candidates agreed there should be no "hard and fast rules" in this connection and, in the words of one candidate the fixed policy of not reappointing is wrong "and often sacrifices ability for turn-over."

Q—Will you have the time to attend all council meetings — special as well as regular?

The candidates all said that they would attend all meetings of the council.

Q—Do you think broadcasting the council meetings is desirable? and why?

There was agreement of the candidates that broadcasting the council meetings was desirable in arousing citizen interests in city government. But there was the need, they added, to encourage citizens to speak their complaints fully. Some citizens hesitate in appearing before the council because of the broadcasts.

Q—When one's business or professional interests conflict with the best interests of the city, to which one would you give precedence? Do you feel that holding public office should limit expression of personal opinion on public questions?

Anderson — The city's interest must prevail. In voicing opinion they should be based in facts.

Yelland — When personal interest conflicts with the city's interest the individual should withdraw.

County Faces $25,000 Deficit In Fiscal Year

A deficit of $25,000 in the operation of county government in Delta County is indicated in a report issued by Harold Gustafson, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

At the end of 1952 the county had a cash balance of $25,230.10. This was reduced to only $5,888.10 at the end of 1953. County expenditures as indicated in the budget are expected to be $30,000 more than receipts during the year, the report shows, leaving a deficit of $25,000 at the end of the year.

Gustafson's report emphasizes that the expenses of county government in Delta County are among the lowest in the state.

More Funds Needed

The county needs additional funds not only to wipe out its anticipated deficit but to raise salaries that are now unfairly low, to purchase needed modern office equipment and for better park facilities, Gustafson reported.

The county assessed valuation for 1954 is expected to reach $33,500,000. A levy of eight mills

National Guard Is Accepting Recruits

The second month of the current two month recruiting drive is well under way at the local engineer headquarters, National Guard.

Capt. Johnson, Company commander, says "vacancies still exist for such critical job openings as, truck drivers, radio men, and combat construction men." The present driver training school is in progress, to train new drivers for their duties at the coming outdoor drills and the two weeks camp period.

All new recruits joining now will have a chance to fire on the units outdoor rifle range, during the months of May and June. Plano's are now under consideration for all men of Co. C to fire on two separate Sundays, during those months. New guardsmen will have to train to qualify them at home stations and thus save the preliminary work of training them at Camp Grayling, in August. This will give all guardsmen a boost in their company rating by being qualified as marksmen at least.

Young men 17 to 35 are eligible to join the local engineer unit upon passing the army physical test and other qualifications. They may contact regular personnel at the armory any business day of the week, or attend a regular drill on Tuesday nights, to learn all the facts about the National Guard. Co. C has a quota of 124 men to reach by summer camp training, starting Aug. 7.

McCarthy Committee Must Fix His Role In Probe

ON the United States Supreme Court, or indeed any judicial body, a jurist completely removes himself from any case coming up in which he may be presumed to have either a direct or an indirect interest.

This is a principle long observed in American jurisprudence. It is founded on the simple notion that a man who has any interest, however remote, in a matter up for judgment cannot be presumed to be without prejudice.

Americans apply it in many places outside the courts of law. To them it seems a plain requirement of justice.

'New Broom' Troubles

REP. John Phillips, a California Republican, has told the government's housekeeper, the General Services Administration, to wield the mop more vigorously around Washington.

As head of a House appropriations subcommittee, Phillips had some private eyes take a peek at the government's cleaning activities. They found cleaners "sleeping peacefully." Evidently others regarded a mop as a prop, and the mop closet turned out to be something of a social center.

Things had got to the point, said Phillips, where various government agencies were doing their own cleaning, instead of "having someone in" from GSA. Even the Pentagon threatened to assign military personnel for inside yard duty.

GSA complains it hasn't got enough money for a proper job, and is asking more. The report we saw doesn't say so, but we're sure GSA promised to do better.

Obviously it won't be Phillips' fault if the Republicans fall down on their 1952 campaign promise to "clean up the mess" in Washington.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

A local newscaster came up with a really extraordinary pronunciation the other morning when, in describing the recent McCarthy-Stevens imbroglio, he said that one party (I forgot which) was guilty of "lay-say majesty." The history of this phrase, it seems to me, would interest many of your readers—and I'd like to have a foolproof pronunciation for it myself.—W. J. A., San Bernardino, Cal.

Lese majesty (pronounced leeez MAJ-ess-tee) literally means a crime against the king or other sovereign power though in the words of the Oxford dictionary it is now more commonly used "jocularly" to describe "presumptuous conduct on the part of inferiors." This phrase had its origin in Roman times in the sense of crime against the state. Later it came to mean any crime against the person of a king. The present-day spelling is a rough approximation of the French lese majeste from the Latin laesa injured and majestas majesty.

Incidentally that word "imbroglio" which my correspondent tosses off so lightly means a troublesome entanglement especially one leading to an embarrassing state of affairs. It comes to us direct from the Italian language and is pronounced im-BROHL-yoh.

In present-day usage it is somewhat akin to another interesting word from Italian, "frascati" (FRAY-kus), except that the latter has a connotation of physical violence. Thus, an altercation which doesn't pass beyond the stage of heated argument would be an "imbroglio" while a vehement interchange of epithets ending in a free-for-all would be a "frascati."

A Milwaukee reader asks: "What is the correct pronunciation of 'bourbon'?"

If you are referring to the name of the European royal family which once ruled France and Spain, the pronunciation is BOOR-bun. If you mean the American whisky, the pronunciation is either BOOR-bun or BER-bun, with the latter strongly favored in Kentucky and near states.

The Republican leadership in the U. S. Senate believes this principle should operate in the coming hearings on the dispute between Senator McCarthy, his chief counsel, Roy Cohn, and top Army officials.

The charges that have been flung by the Army involved alleged acts and remarks by both the senator and his counsel. This is not a case against Cohn alone. Therefore, McCarthy is an interested party.

Before the Senate leadership spoke, the Republican and Democratic members of McCarthy's investigating subcommittee made known their feeling that he ought to step out of the picture completely—except as a witness.

Now President Eisenhower has added his support to the general idea that a man should not sit in judgment on his own case.

Even before the President spoke, McCarthy had bowed to the pressure to the extent of removing himself from his committee for these hearings. But he made plain he did not thereby intend to yield the right to cross-examine witnesses. He said he is willing to extend the same right to Army officials on the other side.

The senator said he has this right because he is a senator, that he could not possibly divest himself of it. That is perhaps a legal argument that only lawyers and students of government could settle properly.

Congressional committees usually allow cross-examination only through committee members or staff men. Proposed questions are handed up in writing. Since in this hearing neither McCarthy nor Cohn will be acting as committee personnel, many senators doubt that the senator's insistence on cross-examining is fair or proper.

In the last analysis the six other members of McCarthy's committee must determine whether this demand is within the limits of the American notion of justice.

The President and Senate leaders have given their views, but they will exert no other pressure.

It is for the committee to decide how justice shall be pursued.

SHIPPING PROSPECTS (Sault News)

A leveling-off in Great Lakes shipping is in prospect for 1954, according to a report from Cleveland.

This report indicates that as much as 20 per cent of the lakes fleet may be "mothballed" this season because of heavy current stocks if iron ore still on the lower lakes docks.

If this prediction materializes, the drop in activity around the Sault might be quite noticeable, especially after the record season of 1953. Possibly many of the older more familiar vessels will be missed by the many "boat watchers" up and down the St. Mary's River this year.

The trend predicted would be in line with the general economic activity of the nation, in the wake of the end of the fighting in Korea.

If the lessened shipping activity should materialize, perhaps it would be wise if the government and the steel industry got together on a study of a long-range stockpiling program, in the interest of national defense.

The Sault Locks are still the key to the American steel industry, and now might be the time to study how a stockpiling program might neutralize any enemy action at cutting off the nation's ore flow through the Locks.

The only time such a program could be economically carried out is when the shipping is available.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

LOS ANGELES—The California arm of Herbert Brownell's Justice Department is now playing it rough, tough and with a cold eye to political business. It is busy looking over the record of several California congressmen in order to find a Democratic Bramblett, Congressman Ernest Bramblett, a Republican, was recently convicted for taking salary kickbacks, which gave the GOP a black eye in California, and U. S. attorneys in California would like to find a Democrat to counterbalance it.

They are calling their shots very carefully, because a few votes in the House of Representatives next November may spell the difference between Republican or Democratic control. Here is how the GOP strategy shapes up.

No. 1—U. S. attorneys are considering the indictment of Congressman Robert Condon of Walnut Creek, Calif., on a charge of perjury. Condon, whose law firm once represented Communists, has testified to this effect, but has stated that he was never a member of the Communist party. Although Condon convinced his congressional colleagues that he was telling the truth, Justice Department officials have been considering a perjury case against him. They will probably hold it up, however, until late summer or early fall just before elections.

No. 2—Justice Department officials have combed the record of Congressman Jack Chelley of San Francisco, a member of the Teamsters Union, who was a friend of former Collector of Internal Revenue James Smythe, indicted in connection with income tax scandals, but never convicted. A search of Congressman Shelley's record, however, proved fruitless.

No. 3—Meanwhile, U. S. Attorney Laughlin Waters in Los Angeles has shown every indication that he is out to get Congressman Cecil King, Democrat, of Los Angeles. King is the second-ranking Democrat member of the congressional delegation from California and any action against him should have important political reverberations.

WRONG MRS. KING

Recently, the U. S. attorney's office in Los Angeles subpoenaed King's bank record from the Riggs Bank in Washington; also that of Mrs. King, whose first name is Louise, but whose nickname is "Gert." Both bank accounts failed to show any substantial deposits. The U. S. attorney then subpoenaed the banking account of a "Mrs. Gertrude King" from the same bank, apparently under the impression that she was Mrs. Cecil King. Mrs. Gertrude B. King had heavy deposits, reportedly from a trust fund, and the U. S. attorney's office really thought they had something. They were disappointed to find, however, that she was not the wife of a congressman, but the wife of a government official in Washington, D. C.

Meanwhile, U. S. Attorney Waters is reported to be persevering. He was formerly a member of the California legislature and as such was chairman of the committee which gerrymandered Congressman King's 17th district so that King had to move his home.

What Waters did was to chop the district up so that two isolated blocks, including King's home, were placed outside his election district.

As a result, the congressman had to move. And one of the matters which the U. S. attorney's office is now investigating is where King got the money to acquire a new home.

U. S. Attorney Waters' activities have gone so far that he recently attended a political rally in Manhattan Beach where he sat beside the Republican candidate who is opposing King, Mr. Robert Finch. Significantly Finch had previously indicated he would not run for Congress. But after the U. S. attorney started the grand jury investigation of King, Finch suddenly changed his mind and entered the race. Now he has the public support of the U. S. attorney as well as the private supporters of his office.

HATCH ACT VIOLATED?

Justice Department officials in Washington, when queried, expressed the opinion that Waters' attendance at a politically friendly aimed at defeating King, the man he was attempting to prosecute, was not a violation of the Hatch Act since Waters is not under civil service.

The Sault Locks are still the key to the American steel industry, and now might be the time to study how a stockpiling program might neutralize any enemy action at cutting off the nation's ore flow through the Locks.

The only time such a program could be economically carried out is when the shipping is available.

No Cooks Can Spoil the Broth, Too

By CLINT DUNATHAN

HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT—There is the possibility that construction will be started this year on a four-lane highway between Escanaba and Gladstone, now one of the bumpiest, roughest and yet most heavily-traveled roadways in the Upper Peninsula.

The proposed project has received the blessing of the Escanaba and Gladstone Chambers of Commerce and the Delta County Road Commission. On March 18 the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce wired Michigan Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler:

"Escanaba Chamber of Commerce recommends four-lane highway to Gladstone be given consideration for 1954 construction."

And the Delta delegation meeting at that time with the state highway commissioner returned to report they were "assured by Mr. Ziegler that widening of the highway between Escanaba and Gladstone will be scheduled for 1955, and that if funds are available, work on the project may be started this year."

VOLUME WILL RISE—This news is most welcome to the people of the two cities and to Delta County, who most use the route carrying all of the traffic on US-2, M-35, and M-36.

They have been aware for many years that the present narrow roadway, which includes several curves and hills with treacherously short sight distances, is inadequate for the present volume of traffic.

This traffic volume is increasing year by year, the surface of the highway is deteriorating rapidly and is now bumpy throughout the year, and there is every prospect that within a few more years the traffic will go rapidly higher with completion of the Straits of Mackinac bridge.

The answer to these problems is to correct the condition now, so the roadway will not be torn up when the traffic reaches even greater volume.

NO DISAGREEMENT—There has in the past been speculation that the Gladstone-Escanaba link of the state trunkline highway might be relocated.

Events of the past year indicate that relocation is no longer considered desirable by either of the communities or the state highway department. When and if the improvement is made it will be on the present location.

Substantiating this conclusion is the fact that the state has made preliminary surveys of the present route, and the state during the recent high water period placed rock rip-rap along the shoreline of the present roadway.

Unofficial information is that the state intends to place a sand base fill over the present roadway to prevent frost-heaving in the future, and to lay the new four-lane concrete slab over the sand base.

Certainly it is well that if disagreement on location previously existed it has now been resolved. There will be no change in routing.

Dallas Religious Look May Be Top Remedy For Delinquency

By RALPH MONCRIEF

NEA Staff Correspondent

DALLAS (NEA)—What may be the No. 1 secret weapon in the battle of "Juvenile Delinquency versus Society" was unveiled last month by the First Baptist Church in Dallas—a million-dollar recreational building dedicated to the largest white Baptist church in the nation (membership over 10,000) when he was 32, Dr. Criswell's first concern was the young people.

"A church without young people will wither and die," he has declared on many occasions.

In 1944 the church had no recreational program. He spent the rest of that year and all of 1945 working with others interested in seeing such a program in the church.

BY SOFTBALL SEASON 1946, a conglomeration of enthusiasts wearing the green and white colors of the church took to the field. The first basketball team from the church to participate in the Dallas Church Athletic Association was also organized in 1946. The recreational program was under way.

Says Ned King, one of the youngest deacons and an active participant in the program: "The teams of 1946 and '47 were the beginning of an outstanding athletic program in the church that has seen increased activity in Sunday School participation and many conversions of boys and young men who probably never would have been reached otherwise."

The Parkin Recreational Building is considered by many in the church as a modern miracle. A young people's building had been planned in 1947, but many things delayed it. Meantime, other property adjacent to the church became available, solving two problems for the downtown church: space for the athletic facilities, and parking for the huge congregation. Steel began to rise for the six-story building in August, 1952.

Meanwhile, the recreational program has grown by leaps and bounds with 16-and-under and 18-and-under softball and basketball teams, plus an adult team. The church called in Bib Rainwater, a bony-cheeked young man who has given his life to study of the effects of recreation upon the lives of young people, as Director of Christian Recreation.

Rainwater has added tennis and golf tournaments to the already crowded athletic schedule and directs an athletic program for the summer camp.

His philosophy is "if you want to know a child, watch him play." Dallas Police Chief Carl Hanson, after being shown through the facilities, declared:

"I believe that with this program the First Baptist Church has taken a step that churches all over the country will take to bring the young people of the city to come there and seek a closer walk with God."

Fire Spotting New Job For Television

Associated Press Outdoor Writer

LANSING (AP)—Television's applications to conservation work are just beginning to be explored. But it is plain there are tremendous potentials in the new miracle of science.

The latest application is for forest fire spotting.

In test in Louisiana, the traditional fire spotter in a tower was replaced with a revolving television camera. Making a revolution every two minutes, the camera proved that such a system could do the work of eight human spotters.

The test indicated that one man sitting in a central control point can easily keep tabs on eight to 10 cameras which each would be covering a radius of about 20 miles.

The East Michigan Tourist Assn. has sent along to Lansing a request that comes annually. This is for stiffer laws against sloppy ice fishermen.

Ice fishermen have a bad habit of leaving all kinds of litter—beer cans and bottles, boxes, and refuse of all kinds—all over the ice. When the ice melts, this litter either sinks or floats in to shore to make messes that property owners have to clean up before they can use their beaches.

The tourist association wants to put teeth into existing laws prohibiting such littering, probably by increasing penalties.

The only trouble is that the association addressed its demands to the State Conservation Department.

Priest's Passport Poses Problem

HONG KONG (AP)—When 73-year-old Yugoslav priest, Francis Alexis Benigar, was expelled from China recently he presented a problem to American priest, Paul J. Duchesne, who met him at the Hong Kong border.

There was a bit of difficulty about Father Benigar's ancient passport. He went into China 30 years ago and has been there ever since. His Yugoslav passport, issued by King Alexander I (1921-34), was so out-of-date and battered the customs guards were suspicious. Suspicion was allayed after lingual detours.

Father Benigar speaks seven languages—Yugoslav, Polish, Russian, German, Chinese Mandarin, Italian and Latin. Father Duchesne speaks four, English, French, Chinese Contonese (which has no similarity to Chinese Mandarin) and Latin.

The old passport was explained in the language of the Caesars to Duchesne and in English to the border guards.

Father Benigar is now in a Hong Kong hospital recovering from general exhaustion.

15 Years of Shell Research Overcomes A Major Cause of Oil Burner Service Calls

Clogged filter screens have been recognized for years as a major cause of oil burner service calls.

Shell Research spent 15 years developing a way to combat screen clogging. The result was FOA-5X, an additive that is now in every gallon of Shell Furnace Oil.

During three years of exhaustive testing of FOA-5X in thousands of homes not a single case of burner failure due to a clogged filter screen was reported.

For carefree heat all season, switch to Shell Furnace Oil with FOA-5X. It costs no more than ordinary heating oils. Call us today. We'll make all the arrangements.

Fake Fire Plug Solves Problem

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati businessman solved his parking problem by using his own fire plug.

He found the old plug at the waterworks. Every day the porter at his business establishment would roll out the plug about 6 a.m. After his boss parked, he would bring it in.

He got away with it for months. Then a policeman got curious about a fire plug which sometimes wasn't there. He doused the false fire plug idea right then and there.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Those signing a petition to have the city mark with white lines the street cross walks at 30th St. and Adams Ave., included James McMahon, 78. Late, McMahon was hit and killed by an automobile while crossing at the intersection. The city council was then told that crosswalk markings and lighting should be placed there immediately by the street department.

Red Consulates In US Liquidated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Polish Embassy announced today that the Polish consulates general in New York, Chicago and Detroit "have been closed as requested by the State Department and . . . have now liquidated their affairs."

The department had ordered the closings Feb. 25, saying the offices "serve no useful purposes in the conduct or relations between the United States and Poland at the present time."

The action was welcomed by several members of Congress, among them Rep. Chipfield (R-III) who said "apparently these consulates have been used as outlets for Communist propaganda."

Today's Polish Embassy statement said the consulates had been operated "in the spirit of international cooperation in behalf of better understanding, which we keenly desired, between the Polish and American people."

The three consulates were the last remaining Iron Curtain diplomatic posts in this country outside of Washington.

Bill To Cut Excise Taxes 999 Million Goes To President

would add almost another billion to the deficit. But a veto would cancel the extensions of present rates too and result in a net revenue loss of 78 millions more than if the bill takes effect.

The tax-cutting urge in Congress, in this congressional election year, was predominant as Senate and House conferees ironed out differences Monday in earlier versions passed by the House and Senate.

The House bill would have provided only $12 millions in cuts. The Senate bill would have reduced taxes by $1,019,000,000.

Householder Benefits

The tax on most household appliances would be cut from 10 per cent to 5 per cent—a Senate provision. Affected would be refrigerators, stoves, home freezers, hot water heaters, electric irons, electric blankets, toasters, mixers, clothes dryers, dishwashers, power lawn mowers and garbage disposers.

The bill would wipe out any tax on movie or other admissions costing 50 cents or less. The House had rejected this proposal; the Senate voted to exempt admissions of 60 cents or less. The federal tax would end on regular season college athletic events, nonprofit museums or exhibits, and amateur civic theaters—another Senate provision.

The present 20 per cent rate would be kept on horse and dog race track admissions, night club and cabaret admissions, and club dues. The House bill would have cut these too, but the Senate voted to cancel those cuts.

The House bill had simply cut all admission taxes from 20 per cent to 10 per cent. The compromise version calls for this cut on all other admissions, including those above 50 cents, not dealt with specifically in the bill.

Phone Calls Cheaper

The conference committee adopted a House-approved cut from 20 per cent to 10 per cent on safe deposit boxes.

The committee accepted Senate action in knocking out a House-approved cut from 10 to 10 per cent in the tax on firearms and safe deposit boxes.

These cuts approved by both houses were not involved in the compromise.

From 20 to 10 per cent—Furs, jewelry, handbags and luggage, cosmetics, electric light bulbs, cameras and film.

From 25 to 10 per cent—long-distance telephone calls and leased wires.

From 15 to 10 per cent—Sporting goods, mechanical pencils and pens, lighters, rail, bus and plane fares, local telephone bills, and telegrams.

Program Offered By Eisenhower To Slash Tariffs

grave doubts as to how far its proposals would get in Congress.

Those same doubts still apply now that Eisenhower has accepted the suggestions in general, bundled them together into a message and asked Congress to do something about them. Many members of the President's own party in the Senate and House adhere to the historic GOP position that tariffs should be kept relatively high to protect domestic industry against cheap imports.

Headed By Randall

The commission, headed by Clarence Randall of Chicago, president of Inland Steel Co., turned in its report Jan. 23.

The core of the report and the Eisenhower message is a recommendation for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, which expires June 12, and for expanded authority for the President to negotiate tariff adjustments with other countries on a give-and-take basis.

Eisenhower said his is a "minimum program" of four major, interlocked parts:

Foreign trade—"which we wish to curtail."

Investments abroad—"which we wish to encourage."

Free exchange of one currency for another—"which we wish to facilitate."

Foreign trade—"which we wish to expand."

The President said he considers it essential to achieve each of these objectives, declaring:

"Unless we are prepared to adopt the policies I have recommended to expand export and import trade and increase the flow of our capital into foreign investment, our friends abroad may be discouraged in their effort to re-establish a free market for their currencies. If we fail in our trade policy, we may fail in all. Our domestic employment, our standard of living, our security, and the solidarity of the free world—all are involved."

"For our own economic growth we must have continuously expanding world markets; for our security we require that our allies become economically strong. Expanding trade is the only adequate solution for those two pressing problems confronting our country."

Dulles' declaration of the Communist threat in the Far East was delivered in an address before the Overseas Press Club at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

It was learned in Washington that his call for "united action" had been specifically cleared with Eisenhower at a weekend White House conference.

Dulles did not sell out specific "united action" measures. The speech was broadcast nationally by radio and television, and by the Voice of America abroad.

Dulles said that at the forthcoming Geneva conference on Far Eastern problems the United States will not be "disposed to give Communist China what it wants from us, merely in exchange for its promises of future good behavior." He said the United States would not abandon the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa and encourage its "bloody liquidation by the Chinese Communists."

Consequences Serious

In a preview of the U. S. position at the peace conference on Korea and Indochina opening April 26 at Geneva, he said the United States government has no intention of granting diplomatic recognition to Communist China or of voting to seat it in the United Nations. In discussing the Red threat in the Far East, he warned—as he did here last Sept. 2—that open entry of a Chinese Communist army into Indochina "would result in grave consequences which might not be confined to Indo-China."

He further warned—as he did here last Jan. 12—that potential aggression anywhere "might lead to action in places and by means of the world's choosing, so that aggression would surely cost more than it could gain."

O-JIB-WA BITTERS HIGHLY PRAISED BY DETROIT COUPLE

About two weeks after I started taking it, I was relieved of the pains and stiffness. My suffering from gas and indigestion went away too, so I talked Alice into trying it. She found relief too, in fact we enjoyed eating more as the food seemed to taste better. I used to take my bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS to work with me, so I could take my noontime dose. The other fellows at work often made fun of my taking it, but that didn't bother me because I knew it was good medicine. I suppose they were laughing at the name, 'O-Jib-Wa,' but what difference does it make what it's called as long as it makes people better. I am relieved now, and my wife and I feel fine, thanks to your swell medicine. We are happy to tell everyone what O-JIB-WA has done for us."

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Ex-Escana High School football star Bob St. Martin is currently drilling with the varsity squad in spring practice sessions at the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. . . . A 230 pound lineman, Bob earned two varsity letters at Eskymo and lettered last year at Marquette Northern . . . The 21-year-old son of Mrs. Elmer St. Martin, 509 S. 9th St., is making a strong bid for a varsity berth as the spring practice schedule hits the mid-point of a three-week session.

Vern Lewellen, general manager of the Green Bay Packers, looks for an interesting game when the Green Bay Packers open the 1954 National Football League season on Sept. 26 at Green Bay City Stadium . . . "Gem Ronzani, who preceded present head coach Lisle Blackbourn, was recently signed as backfield coach at Pittsburgh," Lewellen told his audience at the joint Rotary - Kiwanis - Lions meeting yesterday noon . . . "You can bet that both the Steelers and the Packers will be dead serious about winning that one," the ex-Packer grid great said.

The Packers, incidentally, play three of their six NFL home games at Green Bay and three at Milwaukee this season . . . The first two games of the season against Pittsburgh and Chicago Bears are at Green Bay as is the Nov. 21 game with the Detroit Lions . . . Home games at Milwaukee are against San Francisco, Los Angeles and Baltimore.

There wasn't a single repeater on the All-U. P. Class B or Class E teams named today by the Sports Writers Association . . . Closest to a repeat was Dave Anderson of National Mine who was on the Class E first team last year and was dropped to the second team this year.

Jim Bolm's selection to the Class B second team was a fine tribute to an excellent athlete . . . Bolm, who developed at an amazing rate under Coach Burt Gustafson this season, might well have made the first team if he hadn't been forced out of action by illness during the middle of the campaign . . . He saw only limited service last season on the varsity team but blossomed into a terrific center this year . . . Bolm is a diligent trainer and is highly regarded by the coaching staff and school people.

Cavarretta Out, Stan Hack In As Manager Of Cubs

By PAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP) — Phil Cavarretta and the Chicago Cubs parted company after 20 years today and another former Chicago baseball idol — Stan Hack — stepped in as manager.

Cavarretta, a star player for 17 years but unable to win as manager in two full seasons, was relieved of his post here Monday after the Cubs had dropped their 15th spring exhibition game in 20 starts. It was the first managerial change in the major leagues this year.

Wid Matthews, director of playing personnel of the Chicago organization, told Cavarretta he was to change places with Hack, who has been manager of the Los Angeles club in the Pacific Coast League. Cavarretta balked and said he would seek a major league connection elsewhere.

Was He Fired?

Matthews insisted that Phil wasn't fired but Cavarretta had a different view. "I come home and get fired," he said sadly. Cavarretta now lives in Dallas and operates a children's amusement park here.

Matthews gave no reason for the action other than that it was "for the good of all concerned." But at Phoenix, Ariz., Phil K. Wrigley, owner of the Cubs, said, "This year when he picked everyone but us to finish in the first division, he was licked before he started. He said he did not have the kind of ball players he wanted. He had sort of given up on the boys, so to speak, feeling that they were not pennant material. Well, maybe not, but they could be with the will to win."

Offered Same Salary

Today the Cubs play Baltimore here and coach Bob Sheffing will be in charge of the club. Baltimore beat Chicago 4-3 Monday with a rally in the ninth.

Matthews said Cavarretta was offered the same salary at Los Angeles that he was receiving from the Cubs and that he would be paid his full 1954 salary although refusing to go to the Pacific Coast League club.

"I was really shocked," Cavarretta said at his home here. "Matthews told me right after the ball game. He just said Stan was coming in to take over the ball club. And if I wanted to stay with the Cub organization, I could take over Los Angeles. I just couldn't see going out to Los Angeles. I thought I had done a good job with the material I had. So I get fired in spring training."

In Playing Shape

Cavarretta said he was in pretty good shape and that he wanted to stay in baseball, figuring he could play 50 or 75 games. "And I think I could definitely help some of the younger players. I'd like to make a connection as a player coach."

Cavarretta, 37, became manager of the Cubs in mid-season of 1951, replacing Frank Frisch. His club was fifth in 1952 and seventh last year. Hack, 47, finished his playing career in 1947 and managed Des Moines in the Western League and Springfield, Mass., in the International League before going to Los Angeles.

Cavarretta played in three World Series and was voted most valuable player in the National League in 1945. Hack also was one of the all-time Cub playing greats and a teammate of Cavarretta many years.

Selby And All-Stars Top 'Trotters 94-87

TORONTO (AP) — The Harlem Globetrotters today had to start thinking about starting a new winning streak.

All-America Frank Selby paced the College All-Stars to a 94-87 victory over the Trotters Monday night — The Globetrotters' first loss in the last 264 games. The streak extended back to April 15, 1953 when the All-Star aggregation of a year ago turned the trick.

Fabulous Frank from Furman led 19 points to lead the collegiate scorers while Notre Dame's Dick Rosenthal added 17 and All-America Cliff Hagan of Kentucky got 15. Ermie Robinson of the losers collected 22.

The game was the third in a 22-game cross-country series.

Today the Cubs play Baltimore here and coach Bob Sheffing will be in charge of the club. Baltimore beat Chicago 4-3 Monday with a rally in the ninth.

Matthews said Cavarretta was offered the same salary at Los Angeles that he was receiving from the Cubs and that he would be paid his full 1954 salary although refusing to go to the Pacific Coast League club.

"I was really shocked," Cavarretta said at his home here.

Pitchers Are

In the last six games, the Card-hurlers have allowed only 14 runs, a little more than two per game. They've been supported by 18 runs for those six games and nary a home run.

But with Vic Raschi, obtained from the New York Yankees to work on the Dodgers, Harvey Haddix (with an 0.50 ERA in the exhibition loop), Gerry Staley (an 18-game winner last year) and Tom Poholsky (just back from the Army), who got credit for Monday's 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox, the Cards will be no pushovers.

Orioles Keep Up Pace

The amazing Baltimore Orioles continued their sweep through the exhibition trail by edging the Chicago Cubs 4-3 for their fifth decision in nine games with the Bruins. The Orioles came from behind to pound Howie Pollet for three runs in the ninth inning.

Bolm, Quinn Named To Class B Second Team

Groleau Of Nahma On U. P. Writers' E Team

IRONWOOD — The list of outstanding Upper Peninsula high school basketball players in two classes, B and E, was posted today by the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association which met in its annual spring session here Saturday.

Because of the large number of standout players above the Straits this season the Association selected a first and second team in each class, in addition to an all-class first team. The Class C and D teams will be announced tomorrow along with the "coach of the year" selection. The all-class team will be released on Thursday.

Players from Munising, Iron Mountain, Ishpeming, Ironwood and Marquette landed first team berths in Class B. Jim Bolm of Escanaba and John Quinn of Gladstone were honored with second team berths.

Bolm Highly Rated

In Class E, Donald Groleau of Nahma was selected to the first team and Doug Hackenbruch, center of the runnerup Perkins quint, made the second team.

Bolm, center on Coach Burt Gustafson's Eskymo squad that rolled through tough district tournament action and into the semi-finals in the regional before bowing to champion Munising, received a heavy vote from the Association for a first team berth but was edged on the ballots by big Pat Cvengros of Ironwood.

Bolm, who was laid up by illness for several games in mid-season, was automatically placed on the district tournament at Gladstone. Frank Hamilla of Munising rounds out the second five. Tom Kakuk, outstanding Stephenson player, was placed on the honorable mention list.

The Class E first team boasts the Upper Peninsula's most prolific scorer in regular season competition in the form of big John Zelezniak of Amasa. He hit for 523 points in 18 games for a 20.6 average, just a half-point off the all time record set by Pete Kutchens of St. Joe in 1951-52.

Draft Choices
To Help Pack,
New Coach Says

Lisle Blackburn

"We gained ground on some of the other teams in the National Football League by our draft choices this year," new head coach Lisle Blackburn told members of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs at a joint noon meeting yesterday at the Delta Hotel.

Blackburn and Vern Lewellen, new general manager of the Packer organization, described the organization of the Green Bay "new regime" after the resignation of coach Gene Ronzani last season.

The Packers drafted Art Hunter, 6-4, 240-pound Notre Dame tackle on the first round. Hunter was everybody's All-American choice and saw service at center, end and tackle during his Notre Dame career.

Second choice of the Packers was Verly Switzer, Kansas State halfback who is compared with the famed Buddy Young of Illinois.

"Green Bay will have a football team you can be proud of this year," Lewellen emphasized. "Win or lose, they'll be playing to the best of their ability for 60 minutes of the game."

Bridge Borings Start In April

LANSING (AP) — The Mackinac Bridge Authority said that borings should start in mid-April for the Straits bridge underwater piers.

Prentiss M. Brown, Authority chairman, in a progress report said survey crews have been in the area since early March and that land survey towers now are being erected, a 65-foot tower at St. Ignace and a 35-foot tower at Mackinaw City.

The foundation contractor already has enough floating equipment on hand to begin construction of survey platforms as soon as the ice goes out of the Straits, Brown said. About three million dollars' worth of additional equipment will be delivered in time to get the earliest possible start on construction.

Brown said the foundation contractors have mobilized field forces at St. Ignace and will complete erection of their offices next week. He said work is now under way on dock facilities at St. Ignace and a railroad siding and dock facilities are being built at Mackinaw City.

Brown reported that caissons and cofferdams have been ordered and that the caisson for the south cable bent pier is expected to be delivered in late April.

Brown reiterated warnings to workingmen not to go to the Straits looking for work unless they have written guarantees of a job.

He said the initial labor force would be only 300 to 400 men, most of them skilled workers hired through unions. Trucking, earthmoving, grading and similar work will not start until 1957, he added.

The estimated date of completion of the bridge has been advanced to Sept. 1, 1957, Brown said.

GROWING SPIRITUALLY

By
E. STANLEY JONES

Hos. 4:17-19 (Moffatt)

WORSHIPING SECRET BAALS

We continue to look at the decay of Ephraim: "Gray hairs are here and there upon him, yet he knoweth not" (v. 9). When we cease to grow, decay sets in. Our friends can see the signs of decay, the appearance of gray hairs, but we don't see them. "He's slipping," they say in their hearts, but we go blithely on, unconscious of the decay.

This verse depicts graphically the steps down:

Whenever Ephraim spoke, men were in awe; he was a prince in Israel. But then he worshipped Baal, and for his guilt he died.

(Hos. 13:1, Moffatt)

Here is the picture of a man who, when he spoke, spoke with power straight out of the heart of reality. Men were in awe. For there is something awesome about truth and reality. They are so self-verifying. Men who deal with truth and reality become morally weighty and spiritually effective.

But then comes the subtle change; he inwardly bows the knee to truth to a playing to the galleries; the herd becomes God. On pride forms within the heart, and there is an inner bowing to the self as God. Or lust takes over and begins to be spelled Lust—it dominates.

Or Mammon creeps in and wants to divide the affections with God. A Hindu student was asked why he went to the Christian church and he replied: "Examination time is just ahead, and I have to play safe." Many a Westerner would smile at the Hindu, but would do the same in his heart—God for eternity, Mammon for time; Truth for the ideal, lies and shady dealings for the real; for Sunday "God wills it" for the week days "Everybody does it." He represents

Mr. Facing-both-ways. Real inwardly rules over death.

O Father, save me from the secret bowing of the knee to some hidden idol. Make me straight. Amen.

AFFIRMATION FOR THE DAY: I have seen the face of Jesus. What poor idols do I now?
